MARKETS

CHICAGO BOARD OF TRADE.

Chicago, April 28.—Assortments that green bug damage had become general throughout Oklahoma and that injury from Hessian fly was developing rapidly in Missouri, the wheat market today after an early decline. Nevertheless, prices closed weak at $1.15 1/2 for May and $1.14 1/2 for July, with the market as a whole 1/2 cent off to 3/4 cent compared with yesterday's finish. The outcome in corn was 1/2 to 3/4 cent to 1/2 cent down, data were unchanged by a shade lower and provisions varying from unchanged figures to a rise of 25c.

Prof. taking by speculators who had purchased freely during the upturn appeared to account for the weakness in wheat at the close. Bull leaders took the position that with the German crisis presumably out of the way and with the poor condition of the winter crop attracting increased attention a decided advance was due. On the other hand, representative bears were disposed to emphasize the readiness with which sales broadened out on any upturn, and were by no means ready to concede that the difficulty with Germany could be wholly ignored as an influence on the market.

In the corn trade, the chief feature was selling by houses with country connections.

Cuts, like corn, had an easy tone as a result of auspicious weather. Provisions showed a decided upward tendency derived to some extent from higher prices on hogs. Traders who had recently overvalued in the pork market already subjected to something of a squeeze.

Closing prices: Wheat—May, $1.13 1/2; July, $1.14 1/2. Corn—May, 76 1/2; July, 74 1/2. Oats—May, 44 1/2; July, 42 1/2. Rye—May, 52 1/2; July, 50 1/2. Lard—May, $12.55; July, $12.57. Rib—May, $12.60; July, $12.70.

BOSTON WOOL MARKET.

Boston, April 28.—The Commercial Bulletin will say tomorrow:

There has been rather more activity in the wool market the past week although the total volume of business is probably less than an average one. A considerable line of fleece wools was sold at a decline of about a cent a pound, but the market otherwise has been firm.

The situation at the mills is not materially changed. In the west buying has been rather heavy, but by no means general, with prices firm.

DUN'S WEEKLY REVIEW.

New York, April 28.—Dun's Review tomorrow will say:

The best previous records of production and distribution of earnings and wages are steadily surpassed. Even after great expansion legitimate enterprise shows continued augmentation, though various influences combine to hinder its growth. Consumptive requirements, however, are sustained in unprecedented volume and industrial facilities, while constantly improved and increased, are inadequate to handle all the work there is to be done. A widening discrepancy between the contracts offered and those actually closed is noted in about every leading line, many manufacturers, either through inability or disinclination to further extend commitments, having turned considerable business away. That such facts appear in spite of the pronounced rise in prices, is one of the most remarkable features of the times. Only in relatively few instances have the extremely high costs restricted new demands, and reports of premiums for prompt shipments are by no means uncommon.
